DETAILED ACTION

The following is a first action on the merits of application serial no. 10/711,331 filed on September 10, 2004.

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election with traverse of Group I in the reply filed on November 8, 2006 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that claims 22 and 25 are generic to the species. This is not found persuasive because claim 22 is generic only to the species of group I due to the limitations in lines 11-13. Examiner agrees that claim 25 is generic to both species and should be examined with the elected group.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement filed on September 10, 2004 has been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 25 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Ibamoto et al ('313). Ibamoto et al discloses a control having a powertrain (1), an electric motor (7) and a battery (8), the battery is electrically coupled to the motor, the motor being disposed in a power flow path between the engine and a power input member of a transmission as driving power is delivered to a power output member (6), an electronic controller (via Figure 9) responsive to powertrain operating variables for controlling actuating pressure of friction clutches wherein a motor torque is changed (increased) during a ratio change whereby the input torque of the transmission is modulated (increased) to effect a reduction in torque fluctuations (Figure 9, T_o decreases at inertia phase) during the ratio change and the input torque is a combination of engine and motor torque combined (during motor assist mode).

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claim 25 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Omote ('630). Omote discloses a control having a powertrain (1), an electric motor (4) and a battery (6), the battery is electrically coupled to the motor, the motor being disposed in a power flow path between the engine and a power input member of a transmission as driving power is delivered to a power output member (32), an electronic controller (5) responsive to powertrain operating variables for controlling actuating pressure of friction clutches wherein a motor torque is changed (decreased) during a ratio change whereby the input torque of the transmission is modulated (reduced) to effect a reduction in torque fluctuations (gently decrease) during the ratio change and the input torque is a combination of engine and motor torque combined (during motor assist mode).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-9 and 23 are allowed.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
